Is this season the final chance for Coach Slinker?

That's what I have been told, but it's hard to believe considering how long she has already lasted having several disappointing seasons.

What does she have to do to remain head coach at NT? Winning record? NCAA/WNIT appearance? Win x SBC tourney games?

I think she probably has to win the West and/or make the WNIT or NCAA. The thing is, she always comes up with a good season when her head is on the chopping block, so I won't be suprised if we DO win 20 games or so and sneak in the WNIT or something.

I say postseason or nothing. (not SBC tournament)
