Why did I reply to chrisfisher in the Troy basketball thread on gmg.com?

I like Harry and Lorenzo a lot, and I have been visiting gmg.com for a long time, but I am wondering why I even bother.

I deal with parents and fans all the time with the basketball IQ of chrisfisher, so you think when I got home I would welcome a break from it.

I think I will take gmg.com off my bookmarks. There is some good stuff on there, but you have to dig through tremendous piles of BS to find it.

I hope he and a few others never find this board.

I would like Cooley to re-find this board. I've missed him since he left GMG.

There are a few people on GMG that I have sent PMs to, including Cooley, asking to come check this board out.

Cooley did come on here....6-8 months ago for a few weeks. He suddenly quit posting, and went back exclusively to GMG.

I would like Censored by Laurie just because he could provide content - even if he isn't around to see the team due to location.

I'm not sure he'd do any content since he already has a column on Tasty and Quoner's blog.

Ohh I know, but just in my message board draft here - I would like to have him.

Well I got your draft pick man. If we can get Cooley out of retirement we'll have pulled off a coup.
