Crazy close game that A$M could have won.

Being in LA, obviously Bruins games are on the tube alot. I sweat to God they pull out every other game like this. Howland and that squad just put a vice grip defense on you when they get down by 10 or so and they invent ways to win at the end. It's really amazing.

It's gotten to the point where I'm almost gonna be surprised if they DON'T find a way to win when being in a hopeless situation.
