
Coach Stephens signs great first class

Posted by SUMG - 2008/11/13 19:41

Hey I admit that Coach Stephens wasn't my original choice for the job. But, once she was hired I decided that I had to give the lady a chance. Well, after meeting her, I was really impressed. And now she signs this great class. If she can "coach"....she will be phenomenal. Read about these signees:

Yeah, when I read about these girls, I was very impressed. If she knows her X's and O's, we're going places.

I think she has two scholarships left, so things might get even better. I thought she would do well in recruiting. I hope and believe she will do well on the court, although with the memory of Trilli still there, I will wait for some wins before getting too excited.
