
UNC knocks off Ohio State

OSU was #1 in the Coaches poll, so that makes them the second #1 to go down. UCLA will probably be #1 in both now I'd imagine.

I didn't get to watch it. Did Oden and Hansbrough go head to head? How did they do when they were matched up?

Oden was out with injury, and tOSU still was right there at the end. The Buckeyes could be scary good when he starts playing.

Hansbrough looked solid as always. He's a very good, if unspectacular player. He never really wows me perse, but he always gets his points and boards.

I knew he was hurt but for some reason I thought he was back already.

It's sad how much my knowledge of sports outside of a 2A district in West Texas has dropped the last couple of years. :-[

I still miss yur show too! ;D

It's amzing to me how much I follow all the Pac-10 schools now. Not that I don't keep up with the old favorites and all, but having friends out here that went to the UCLA's USC's, and Arizona's of the world keeps me clued into them as well.
