I am sure Tina will be back. I just don't think the AD cares much about basketball and certainly womens basketball. I look for her to finish her contract and then we start the new search. I can't imagine lightening striking twice and her getting supreme talent like she had a few years ago again.

We have alot of young talent this year. We only had one senior, and DiDi, though solid wasn't our best player by any stretch. I wouldn't be surprised if we win twice as many games next year as this season and she gets another extension.
